

CONTENTS

S. D. Atherton-Woolham, L. M. McKnight. Post-mortem restorations in ancient Egyptian animal mummies using imaging.....	9
J. Davey, P. J. G. Craig, O. H. Drummer. Dislodged teeth in four intact child mummies from Graeco/Roman Egypt (332 BCE – c. 395 CE) – child abuse, accident or careless embalmers?.....	18
J. Day. ‘Thinking makes it so’: reflections on the ethics of displaying Egyptian mummies.....	29
A. M. B. Garcia, R. G. Beckett, J. T. Watson. Internal environmental characteristics of a Chiribaya style tomb holding swine remains and their taphonomic impact on decomposition delay, a requisit for mummification.....	45
H. Gill-Frerking. The impact of historical post-excavation modifications on the re-examination of human mummies	63
G. Granite, A. Bauerochse. The comparative analysis of two Pre-Roman Iron Age bog bodies from Northwest Germany using portable X-Ray Fluorescence Spectroscopy.....	76
A. Karamanou, M. Stefanidou. The Greek bandit Fotios Giagoulas: An introduction to his mummified head and future conservation aims	87
L. M. McKnight, N. C. McCreesh, A. Gize. The weird and the wonderful – The scientific study of a miniature mummy.....	97

L. M. McKnight, R. D. Loynes. From Egyptian Desert to Scottish Highlands – the radiographic study of a Twenty-Fifth Dynasty coffin and mummy bundle from the Perth Museum and Art Gallery, Scotland.....	108
D. Piombino-Mascali, J. Kozakaitė, A. Tamošiūnas, R. Valančius, S. Panzer, R. Jankauskas. Skeletal pathological conditions of Lithuanian mummies.....	118
D. Piombino-Mascali, L. McKnight, R. Jankauskas. Ancient Egyptians in Lithuania: A scientific study of the Egyptian mummies at the National Museum of Lithuania and the MK Čiurlionis National Museum of Art.....	127
M. K. Song, D. H. Shin. Joseon mummies before mummy studies began in Korea	135